...each room in the Clubbouse has its own personality. In some rooms, members play games, like bridge or chess, in Others, like Singles Spot, members hang out and chat. One particular room, Married Life, reaches a whole other segment of members and in its own way, has a very dissinct, warm-hearted personality. This month, ImagNings is publishing some of those thoughts on page two from members of Married Life.

In support of all the moms on ImagiNation who visit Married Life or any other place on ImagiNation, we are bringing a very special venue. We are offering a unique opportunity to chat with one of the leading spokespeople on married life, Debbie Nigro. See details below.

Home Away From Home

One Woman's ImagiNation Proclamation

There I was, a 46-year-old woman. totally computer illiterate, stuck at home (not through choice), time on my hands and housework just not fulfilling my needs. The men in my family were so proud to have thought of the perfect gift for me, a second-hand computer. Sure, right, uh huh!

I looked at this contraption. It did not stice por dice. It did not do laundry. Nevertheless, I tried to use this one-eyed monster. It did not respond as the men in my family said it should. Then the men in my family decided to sit down and show me what I was doing wrong. Lo and behold, it wasn't my fault, and off it went to the land of computer repair. Then the darn thing came back twice as smart and three times more aggravating. It must have been my fault. Once again the men sat down and showed me for "the last time" what I was doing incorrectly. Again, it wasn't my fault and back to the shop it went. Back it came with sound and a modern as an apology for not having fixed it the first time.

I looked at this machine and immediately banished it to the far reaches of the universe - never to be touched by my dainty hands again. I was through with computers. Never would I lower myself to its whims and wonders. All was well in my world. I had triumphed over modern technology. "I AM WOMAN!" I said.

Then the man of the house stated, "I am going to order ImagiNation." So? Big deal. Why should I care?

When the men finally got things all set un and went on-line for the first time. I was not impressed nor was I lured back to the monster, "I AM STRONG!" (Besides, all women know about men and their toys.)

The male of the species was running around this new-fangled ImagiNation. checking out the places and rooms and all kinds of things. Still, I was strong. Married Life showed up on the screen and people were talking to the men via the monster. Now I was looking over his shoulder watching and "listening" in awe. I was fascinated - much as I was when we went from the wringer washer to the automatic. I casually asked the men to show me the way of ImagiNation.

Oh me, oh my! I got to make my own character! I could be anything I wanted! I finished my toon, clicked on play and away I went!

Everyone is so helpful on-line.

I learned my way around in no time! I am here and I shall never leave. ImagiNation gives me the freedom to talk at all my odd hours, allows me to flow creatively on the Bulletin Boards, to receive and send mall and, most importantly, to meet the best friends on-line. Now I am a full-fledged member of ImagiNation. I have introduced family and friends to the marvel of technology and I occasionally sing its praises from the mountain tops. I AM WOMAN! SEE ME TYPE AND CHAT AND POST AND PLAY! Now, can we please invent a washer that automatically loads itself?

ImagiNation's Happiest Kingdom

In all the worlds of ImagiNation, I searched for a place where I could relax in peace. Among all those worlds, I was occasionally offended by those whose beliefs and world views differed from my own

That is not to say, of course, I did not find friends and wholesome entertainment on ImagiNation. I did. But I wanted a place where my children (at the innocent ages of eight and 12) could see what was being said at all times - without having to explain something for which they are not ready

Just when I was about to give up hope. I found Married Life. I noticed a difference from the first time I signed on. I was recognized as someone new and welcomed, not by a Sysop, but by the ordinary members, like me, who were there. I perused its bulletin boards and found discussions to be civilized and well-reasoned a great contrast to many I'd seen. Lalso learned why Married Life is so difterent. The regulars keep it that way, and now I'm proud to count myself among that happy group.

So I wrote the following poem in praise to Married Life, and Queen Meme who rules there so well. Meme isn't a Sysop, but we have crowned her Queen by acclamation. Our Knights are those men who soothe the ladies from life's daily little annovances. This is why the (Complain) button is rarely used here.

Tring a roop of . Harried Life Where gentle field, both mon and mife Con feel free to come and be themselves . Com from I. K'V's concernes little close

Tring of our Secen, Home is her name How her agothe role bring her eternal flome Her heart is pure, her soul is kind . Ind we delight in her quick and engaging wind Tring of Lucen Meane's gallant Raighte So praise to them who defend our rights From the lengthy days they give as ever That we may enose and rejoice in peace.

I sing of those who make in lough, and more Their numbers surpass what I can score Green Aller and Moundance, Brian L and Granna T Gring as will and window to whatever me read.

Taing of those whose silver lips Lick we up when life oschoo we elip Garana and Charger Fan make the ladies black . Ind you're too sweet for as ever to tell gow, "Ruch!"

. Ind so I bring praise to Married Life The bloce where this one faithful wife Gen come and find laughter, window and such... So a place I love so much Cartwright live on-line.

NTN Trivia Prizes Better Than Ever!

NTV's prize program on The ImaefNation Network becomes a reality September 1. You'll have the opportunity to win prizes, usage credit and more every week, every month, every quarter and yearly, too! Every time you play NTN Trivia and do well in the rankines, you'll earn prize points. These points accumulate each time you play. and the number of points earned will determine what you can win.

Every week, NTNDebra will appear in an NTN Trivia Room sometime between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

PST, most likely on Friday or Saturday night. She'll be giving away NTN T-shirts, sweatshirts and other apparel and prizes based on all kinds of nutty criteria. Sometimes the winner will be the person who comes in fourth place. Other times it will be for the player that has the best poker hand in their score. You'll never know what the competition will be. but it's guaranteed to be a lot of fun.

MONTHIA Whether you play a little or a lot, you are automatically entered each month in NTN's Above Average Competition, Your ten best games are tracked each month. and a list of the current top ten players displays after every game. If you are one of the top three finishers for the month. say hello to a whopping 100 hours of usage credit! There will be no back-toback first place winners, to give everyone

a chance OHARTERLY

Top three players with highest cumulative score to date will receive a prize valued at $500.

YEARLY

Highest cumulative score of the year ending August 31, 1995 receives a killer multimedia workstation - a $2,500 value!

NTN will be wiping out any accumulated points to date on September 1, to start everyone off on a level playing field. More information may be found in the Clubhouse on the NTN Info Board in Trivia Haven.

Meeting People, Making Friends That's ImagiNation!

Ordinarily, our friendships are based not only on what we feel towards a person, but on physical appearance as well. We don't like to admit that but let's face it. it's true.

When we were klabs, we often were concurrenced to have per pairs. No only to learn about different entirects or cities, or the desired pairs of the desired

There's something about imagNation that less us be unhishibled about ourselves. On imagNation we talk freely and openly, and more often then not, friendships suddenly 'click.' A common interest, a shared political view, similar muskad preferences, even a competitiveness over a game can make sudden friendships.

After chatting with someone for only a few minutes we can usually tell if we're interested in being friends with them. It might even be someone we pass on the street every day. While some friendstips can be immediate and others slow in coming, one thing is for certain. The friendships were made over The ImagNation Network.

ImagNation Network. Control of the What you meet so was control of the What you meet solen so girl all. We could crashly mistake shymes for standiffishiness. possess. Wherever I have reamed on The ImagiNation Network. I have never failed to look at a member as a potential friend. There are so many people I would never have had the opportunity to meet if it weren't for ImagiNation. They don't ludge me. I don't ludge them. We just meet over a game of hearth other trivia.

Special Events Prove Popular

Many of you had the opportunity to take part in The ImagiNation Network's interactive conferences with internationally-known celebrities and personalities.

in July, trekkies and non-trekkies alike boddy enjoyed the on-line adventure with Peter David, the famous Star Trek novelist. Peter was so entranced with member's questions, be stayed on-line an extra hour. Five autographed copies of his lattest Star Trek novel, U-Squared, were given away to lucky members.

Eileen Heisler, a writer and producer for the Emmy-Award winning Murphy Brown, Joined ImagiNation members on Saturday, July 30,

On Tuesday, August 2, Linnea Quigley, the reigning queen of "B" movies, took time to talk shop with ImagiNation members. This voluptuous movie and TV star answered questions about the film industry and her intriguing career.

World-famous astrologer, Alex Szogyi, and consultant to the stars, appeared on Friday, August 26. One lucky member won a personal horoscope prepared by Alex himself.

Be sure to check the INN Special Events Bulletin Board located in the INN Help Room for upcoming celebrity conferences.
